

Early Childhood

Statistics from the National Institute for Literacy, National Center for Adult Literacy, The Literacy Company, and U.S. Census Bureau:

- Nationally, only 35% of public-school students were at or above Proficient in grade 4 reading.
- 37% of children arrive at kindergarten without the skills necessary for lifetime learning.
- 1 in 4 children in America grow up without learning how to read.

How educators teach during a student's early years of reading instruction matters for the child's lifelong academic success. Bailey Education Group's team of early childhood coaches works with schools and districts to:

Professional Development

- Facilitate engaging sessions on structured literacy practices appropriate for early learners
- Create hands on activities for meaningful learning centers
- Provide customized training sessions on Emergent Literacy Skills and Science of Reading

Coaching and Modeling

- Provide support and immediate feedback during the instructional day
- Model effective developmentally appropriate instructional strategies
- Assist in customizing instruction based on various forms of data

District and On-site Support

- Develop resources to facilitate the understanding developmentally appropriate practices for early learners
- Provide assistance to help understand state regulations for Early Childhood classrooms

Our Pre-K CLASS certified instructional coaches can provide Early Literacy support that can improve a student's reading and comprehension skills.
